THE QUINYX STORY

ERIK FJELLBORG • FOUNDER / CEO

Quinyx - the cloud based, mobile first workforce management software that fuels growth for people and businesses in service industries - was founded by CEO, Erik Fjellborg, in 2005 when he was working as a student at McDonald's.

Flipping burgers, he saw first hand how his manager spent all his time on the phone trying to piece together employee schedules. It took up too much time, was inefficient and was unable to take into account the needs and wants of the employees.

After witnessing how difficult it was for managers to manually create and manage schedules, Erik built Quinyx, the market leading workforce management software, which transformed and radically improved the workforce management industry. McDonald's loved Erik's solution and became Quinyx' first customer.

Today, Quinyx helps some of the biggest companies in the world save time and money, improve their productivity and have a happy workforce - by improving their employee scheduling, communication, task-management and payroll integration.

With 700 customers worldwide, 7 million app logins every month, and 2.7 million shifts scheduled every month, Quinyx are one of the global leaders, pioneers, and true experts in the workforce management industry.

Now, Quinyx would like to help you revolutionise your workforce management, fuel your business growth and have a happy workforce...and a happy business.

GANT

ANOTHER HAPPY CUSTOMER

GANT have been at the forefront of fashion since 1949, and through the decades it has changed, evolved and grown into the global presence it is today with over 70 markets, 750 stores and 4,000 selected retailers.

Quinyx is currently using our full Workforce Management suite at around 60 GANT stores in Sweden and the UK, so we paid a visit to their flagship store in Stockholm and met with store manager, Therese Klingwall, and employee, Jonatan Moreno, to see the impact Quinyx has had on the way they manage their business.

What's the biggest difference you've found since you began using Quinyx?

We've noticed a huge difference. We use Quinyx for scheduling, time reporting and payroll. Because it's web-based and all in one place, it saves me time every week and is much easier to use. It means I can spend more time in the store rather than in the office, so I have more time with my employees and our customers. I only spend a day in the office now where I used to spend two.

What other benefits have employees seen from using Quinyx?

Switching shifts is easy as it can be done through the app on our phones and only takes a moment. We can plan for the day ahead by seeing who we are working with and when our breaks are. Quinyx is perfect for me because I can see how many hours I'm working, apply to work more in busy periods, use it to request time off as well as being able to check messages and my schedule when I'm not in the office. I highly recommend it to anyone who is thinking about using it, your staff will love it.

By implementing Quinyx, GANT has revolutionised the way its employees work - saving them time, allowing them to work more efficiently and helping them enjoy work!
